New York, Aug. 14.-It was not until 1 o'clock this afternoon that William J. Bryan was able to announce definitely his plans for the next few weeks.

The decision arrived at last night that he should take a rest at some quiet resort to recuperate from the effects of the severe strain imposed by his tour from Lincoln to New York, and to give him the opportunity to write his formal letter of ac-ceptance, set Mr. and Mrs. Bryan to thinking about a suitable place, and it was finally decided to accept an invitation tendered some time ago to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Perrine, at their home, Upper Red Hook, in Duchess county, N. Y. A telegram was sent Mr. and Mrs. Perrine, and when the answer was received this afternoon, saying that the visit would be agreeance at this time, Mr. Bryan an-nounced his program.

Mrs. Perrine was a teacher at the female academy in Jacksonville, Ill., while Mrs. Bryan was a pupil there. Mr. Bryan also knows her well, as he was a student at the same time at Jacksonville College.

HE TALKS TO REPORTERS. Standing in the vestibule of William P. St. Johns' residence, No. 123 West Thirty-fourth street, Mr. Bryan told a group of newspaper men what his plans were. said that he, Mrs. Bryan and Mr. Sewall would leave New York over the New York Central some time tomorrow forencon, probably at 10:45, for Irvington-on-the-Hudson, to stop over Sunday with Mr. John Brisbane Walker, editor of the Cosmopolitan and an old friend.

August 27 and in Eric on the 25th.

At the latter place he will address the covention of Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania. He will reach Lincoln about September 1, and probably receive the notification committee of the National Silver party at that time. Beyond the information contained in this statement Mr Bryan had nothing to say. With reference to his physical condition he told a United Associated Presses representative, with a smile, that while he felt that he had not reached the end of his physical strength and power he felt it was necessary to have as much rest and quiet as possible while engaged in the composition of his letter of acceptance.

NO SPEECHES AT PRESENT

Mr. Bryan will not make any speeches according to present intentions, on his trip to Upper Red Hook. He said his speak-ing program had not been arranged, but that he might speak in New York again before the election. Mr. Bryan's voice is still busky, but he looks well and strong. The decision to proceed West immediately after the visit to Upper Red Hook is understood to mean an entire abandonment of the contemplated visit to Mr. Sewall at Path, Me. Whether Mr. Bryan will visit New England during the campaign is doubtful, but it is said that his personal inclinaions are toward a New England campaign, 407 7th

Among the callers on Mr. Bryan today were Senator Stewart, of Nevada; Congressman Sulzer and ex-Gov. Holden.

Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, said tonight that he would not announce the different committees until after he reaches Washington. He will arrive in that city tomorrow morning.

Late this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bryan. Mr. Sewall and Mr. St. John drove to the Twenty-second street pier and took the steamboat Taurus for Coney Island. Two central office detectives went along. The trip had been kept a secret and nobody at the pier knew of their coming. On the way to the island two men on the boat became involved in a discussion over the money question, and one told his opponent that "he'd be d-d if he voted for Bryan."

QUEEN TO THE COMMONS

Prorogued Parliament in an Address on National Issues.

Her Majesty Spoke of the Troubles in Crete and in Matabeleland. Venezuela Ignored.

London, Aug. 14.-The queen's speech proroguing Parliament was delivered to the House of Commons at 6:15 o'clock this afternoon. The speech says:

"My relations with the powers continue to be friendly. The hostile movements of the Dervishes in the valley of the Nile against the positions occupied by Italy east of that river convinced me that it was necessary for Egypt to take steps toward arresting their advance.

"By my advice and sanction an expedition has undertaken to restore to the goverument of the khedive as far as Dongola the territory which was lost a decade ago. The operations of the expedition are pro-ceeding, and by the brilliant action at Ferket a large proportion of the territory has already been recovered.

"The conditions of portions of Turkey continues to cause anxiety, and at present Crete is the principal center of the dis-turbances. I have observed strict neutrajity, but in conjunction with the powers traity, but in conjunction with the powers I endeavored to reconcile the contestants by proposing a system of government which should be equitable and equally acceptable to Christians and Mussummers. "I regret that a serious rebellion, signalized with cruel increase, has broken out in Matabele land; the rising having extended into Mashona and. The West of defense and repression has been undertaken, the settiers assumpting great conference.

extended into Mashema and. The work of defense and repression has been understaken, the settlers displaying great courage. They have since been reinforced by imperial and other troops."

The speech refers to the Matabele country and expresses hope that the rebels will shortly accept the clemency which has been offered to them.

Referring tothe matter of the delimitation of the Indian frontier, the speech says that the agreements between the Shah of Persha and the Ameer of Afghanistan upon the subject are friendly to the Chitrals. Relief garrisons sent to Chitral have received the co-operation of the Irlbesmen.

Her majesty expresses her thanks to the House of Commons for their provisions and services for the year, and concludes by saying that she has given her consent with pleasure to the measures for Naval defences, for lessening the agricultural taxes, for the protection of the cattle import from disease ard measures for various other purposes, including the Irish land till.

In bidding farewell to the members of the House her majesty prays that they may receive the blessings of Providence and rest from their labors.

The meeting was most remarkable, owing to Dr. Nansen being uncertain as to where he was, both of his warthes having stopped, and he having been misled by errors in Payer's map. Moreover, he was quite unaware of Jackson's presence in Franz Josef Land. He evinced the greatest surprise and delight at meeting him. Mr. Jackson then proceeds to detail his own doings. He says he devoted most of the past year to exploring the western part of Franz Josef Land. He made accurate maps of the territory. Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train, which left Washington at 11:30 last night, was wrecked at Ravensworth, eleven miles beyond Alexandria.

The train ran into an open switch and with the exception of two Pullman cars was derailed. Ravensworth is a flag station with no telegraphic communication, and it was nearly 2 o'clock this morning before the news of the disaster reached Alexandria.

There were about 175 passengers on the train and it is reported that a number were seriously injured.

Circumstances indicate, so far as can be learned, that it was a deliberate attempt at train wrecking. Railroad officials declare the switch was a lock one and could only have been opened with a key or by smashing the mechanism.
